Join us Sunday, September 24, 2017 for a round of golf on The Old White TPC. The Old White TPC is the oldest 18-hole course at The Greenbrier. Originally opened in 1914 it was designed by famed golf course architect Charles Blair Macdonald who is considered the father of American golf course architecture. Many of the holes were modeled after some of Macdonald's favorites across Europe including the 8th Hole "Redan" at North Berwick, the 13th Hole "Alps" at Prestwick and the 15th Hole "Eden" at St. Andrews. During its 103 years it has hosted most of the greats in golf including Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus. It is now the host course for The Greenbrier Classic, our PGA TOUR event, during which its hosted players like Tiger Woods, Phil Mickelson, Bubba Watson and many of today's greats. After sustaining damage during the flood of 2016 The Old White TPC has undergone a complete restoration during which many of Macdonald's original features and template holes have been painstakingly recreated. We cannot wait to unveil it to the world for the first time during The 2017 Greenbrier Classic and to our guests immediately thereafter.

ARH strives to offer our patients the best possible experience while they are in our care, and believe that experience begins when they first walk through our hospital doors. That is why Beckley ARH Hospital and the ARH Foundation have kicked off a two-year fundraising campaign to help cover the costs of a $500,000 renovation of the hospital front lobby and registration area. This renovation will transform these areas into a more comfortable, soothing and aesthetically pleasing space for patients, visitors, and staff.

As a not-for-profit hospital, Beckley ARH faces the sometimes daunting challenge of providing approximately $3 million in uncompensated care each year, while also continuing to upgrade its facilities and keep up with the ever-changing medical technology. We view this not as a burden, but rather a challenge that we have embraced because without our facility many of our community's most vulnerable residents might have no other choice for medical care for themselves and their families.

However, any funds earned by our hospital are reinvested back into our facility to upgrade equipment, facilities and to add new services, requiring fundraising efforts both within the hospital and out in the community for additional projects such as this lobby and registration renovation.

Whether you participate as a sponsor or golfer, the ARH Charity Golf Classic is an excellent opportunity for you and your organization to assist ARH in helping our patients. With that in mind, we hope that you will consider spending an afternoon on the golf course with us at the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, WV, and will join with us as we continue to make a difference in the lives of the people we serve.
